

What else can a farmer do to make money?

Farmers in Britain have faced many problems in recent years. Why are farmers turning to alternative business on their farms either instead of, or to supplement, the usual farm business?

<https://www.countryfile.com/how-to/outdoor-skills/how-britains-farmers-are-diversifying/>

Find out about some enterprises that farmers can consider:

Bed and breakfast:

<https://www.farmstay.co.uk/UK/bedandbreakfast>

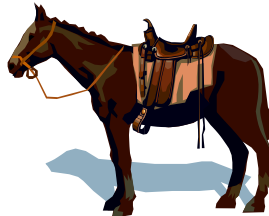

What do you need to set up this kind of business?

<https://startups.co.uk/how-to-start-a-bed-and-breakfast-business/>

Holiday cottages:

There are many examples of these on the internet.

<https://www.sykescottages.co.uk/blog/how-to-start-a-holiday-let-business/>

Stables and livery:

<http://www.saddle-up.org/Livery-yard.htm>

Farm shops:

<https://www.fginsight.com/news/news/opening-a-farm-shop-heres-five-things-you-need-to-know-47668>

See other examples of farm diversification at

<https://www.fginsight.com/news/news/the-top-10-diversification-trends-for-uk-farmers-to-look-out-for-60369>

Research more unusual businesses:

Ostrich farming, water buffalo milk, maize mazes.

What part does farming and the countryside play in the tourist industry?

<https://www.nfuonline.com/news/general-election-2017/general-election-2017-news/farmings-value-to-britain-key-facts/>

